Made in Brooklyn

Jan. 22. Sean Popock, who (like the name of his new New York pizza truck) was made in Brooklyn will now traverse the streets of L.A. slinging pizza pies with housemade tomato sauce that you're meant to "hold, fold and eat the New York way." The menu also offers heroes, meatballs, garlic knots and more. To celebrate the launch, swing by the truck for free garlic knots when you show the cashier that you're following @MadeinBrooklynNYPizza on Instagram. 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. 1228 Glendon Ave., L.A.mibpizza.com
